REMARKS:

- officer in Security who recently retired, loaned me a fascinating volume from his personal library which I have naturally returned. If your bird dogs can locate another copy somewhere, it should be bought by the Agency and I would also like to have a separate copy for this office.
- 2. The author is Miles W. Vaughn. The title is "Covering the Far East." The book is copyrighted in 1936 and published (presumably in the same year) by a New York firm I have never heard of before called "Covici Friede." I am appending a xerox of the title page and the obverse.
- 3. While you are about it, I am still anxious to get a copy of Donald Lancaster's "Emancipation of French Indochina" (Oxford 1961) which as you know, I made the mistake of lending it to someone and the has never returned it.
